An extended contact program workshop held online, hosted by RC Varanasi organized and conducted by Banaras Hindu University by the Resource Persons mainly from the Department of Education, BHU. Dr. Alok Gardia, Associate professor at Department of Education, BHU convened the event. Aiming to provide an intense and rigorous training program on School Leadership and Management Dr. Alok Gardia anchor of the four-day program instructed the candidates to be regular and serious at the behest. He gave some informative and effective examples to motivate the candidates to attend the sessions with great enthusiasm and involvement.

Participants from around several Regional Centers of IGNOU, mostly from Northern India attended the program. Many of the participants were school leaders and others were teachers teaching at different levels. The time duration of the workshop each day was from 11:00 am to 5:30pm with a lunch break and then activity session.

In the inaugural session, Prof. S.K. Swain, Head & Dean, BHU discussed the various facets of Curriculum Transaction.

Dr. Alok Gardia, faculty Department of Education BHU took a session on Conflict Management on the first day. The lecture covered the present-day education system (full of conflict) to that of the Indian traditional system of education (towards Moksha). It was exemplary as not only bookish knowledge but spiritual enlightenment through education was also discussed taking the session par excellence.

On 15th July the first session was conducted by Dr. Sunita Singh faculty Department of Education BHU on Constructivist Approach to Teaching-Learning. The philosophies and theories were discussed with day-to-day examples making the session lively and interactive.

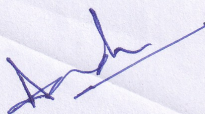

Dr. R. N. Sharma, Coordinator study center-27109, Faculty of Education BHU, was the resource person of the session, "Managing Teaching-Learning Aids". This third day session was all inclusive and elaborate covering every minute detail.

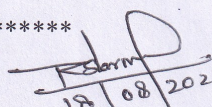

On 16th July Dr. Vinod Kumar Singh conducted a session on, "Sources of Funds and Resource Mobilization". This delicate topic was dealt in a very professional manner by the resource person. In the next session Dr. Kishore H. Mane lectured on, "Principles of Financial Management in Schools". Optimum utilization of funds was made clear to the participants. On 17th July the session was conducted by Dr. Alok Gardia on "School Development Plan". The true meaning of leadership was taught in a very ethical and spiritually evolved approach. The next and the concluding session was also conducted by Dr. Alok Gardia on "Managing Pluralism in Classroom". Respectful and worthy treatment of every individual towards betterment is the basis of Pluralistic Approach. The attendees understood that education is not only Cognitive Development but manifestation of the divine in Human beings.

The resource person gave innovative and challenging activities everyday which brought out the best possible ideas and approaches that can be used practically. The slides and presentation of the resource personnel were exemplary and easy to understand.

The Valedictory session of the workshop was attended by all the participants along with all the resource personnel, Dr. Upendra NabhTripathy Regional Director, IGNOU, Varanasi, Dr. Sanjay Kumar & Dr. Shravan Kumar Pandey Assistant Regional Director, Regional Centre Varanasi and Coordinator of IGNOU Study Centre, BHU graced the occasion. The candidates thanked the faculty and received word of advice from the convener Dr. Alok Gardia.

In totality the workshop was a stupendous success which encouraged and enhanced the participants knowledge to the maximum.
